

Re: "... an inappropriate affect"

"The character of "Staggali" was originally written to be 'the intimidating threat on the periphery of the story.' But once Sal Rendino was cast, we knew we had to rewrite the character to highlight his truly remarkable talent. He became the justification for the crew that we were working on something truly worth watching."

-- Russ Martin, Director